A vertical flagpole stands against a sky transitioning from blue at the top to orange and yellow near the horizon. Two flags are attached to the pole; the upper one is partially visible and the lower one is more prominent, both appearing to be in motion. The sun is a bright, glowing orb on the horizon, partially obscured by the pole and flags. Clouds are visible near the horizon.

CBHS officially celebrates Bicentennial kickoff

Surviving classroom temperatures ranging from 80-90 degrees, students, faculty, and administrators started to school on September 3.

Construction on the new Industrial Arts wing and faculty lounge began. As a result, student parking was drastically reduced. The Drama Department was also affected by the construction. All classes were relocated to the north end of campus, and held in portable buildings.

CBHS officially celebrated the kick-off of the Bicentennial on September 9. Hundreds of people gathered in the horseshoe before first hour, as the Concert Choir and Concert Band performed the National Anthem.

Taking advantage of a new state law a few students met at the flag pole daily, to say the Pledge of Allegiance. The law stated that everyone attending school must be given the opportunity to say the pledge every day.

While attending the Student Senate workshop, Val VanSande listens as various parliamentary procedures are discussed.

Performing at the assembly on Sept. 30, two trombonists from the Southwest Navy Showband execute their musical abilities.

After a Camelback penalty has been called, the referee confers with members of the Saguaro team about whether or not to accept the flag, or take the down. Camelback's penalty-plagued football team eventually lost to Saguaro, 14-0.

76 Homecoming Week activities evolve around America's past

Homecoming Week activities were different from past years. Each day of the week was planned to reflect a specific era in America's history. Several contests were held around the cafeteria. These included a pie eating contest, Women's Suffrage Slave Auction, and dance contest.

The Parent Music Association held their traditional spaghetti dinner to raise funds to help the Band and Choir go to Washington D.C. Homecoming ended with the crowning of Missy Ankenbrandt and Larry Benjamin as royalty, and the Spartans defeating West on the football field.

Members of the Volleyball, Girls' Golf, Freshmen Tennis, Badminton, and Cross Country teams played the majority of their games during October.

Open House was attended by parents on the 21st. The Junior Class sponsored a bake sale to raise funds for the Junior-Senior Prom.

The Student Executive Board chose Denise Doyle and Mike Collins as Boy and Girl of the month for October.

Football team triumphs over PU, fails to conquer Maryvale High

Football hopes and despairs were felt by Spartan fans as the team won a place in the divisionals. A Colorado Playoff was held between Alhambra, Phoenix Union, and CBHS at Central High, with CBHS winning. Next was the game against Maryvale, and the end of aspirations for a State Championship.

"Interview" and "The Serpent" were the Drama Department's fall productions. The plays were presented at The Phoenix Little Theater. Both were comments about life; the first dealing with the feeling of being only a number, and the second whether or not history has an effect on modern life.

The Concert Choir and Advanced Girls' Chorus presented a Parent Night early in the month.

The Girls' Badminton Team took the State title, bringing the first championship of the school year to CBHS.

While rehearsing a solo for upcoming Christmas concerts, Traci Cales laughs at her accompanist's remark.

Woody Richardson contemplates the proposed fencing of CBHS while attending a Board of Education meeting.

Phoenix Little Theater serves as replacement performance site

Interview and The Serpent, two plays written by Jean-Claude van Itallie, were presented by Masque and Gavel.

Construction prohibited access to the old drama room, where past plays had been presented. For this reason, performances took place at Phoenix Little Theater, upstairs in Theater One.

In the first play, Interview, our mechanized modern life was exposed through exaggeration and laughter. Human beings searching for help and understanding were rejected by highly mechanized and threatening institutions.

During The Serpent, called "A Ceremony" by the author, the actors and audience confronted the questions of where we now stand in relationship to the past, and how we set limitations.

Musicians play, sing at holiday parade, concert

Music assemblies were part of the Christmas season. The Concert Choir and some of their alumni performed many seasonal favorites at the annual Christmas Assembly. The band played at the assembly, and also marched in the Fiesta Bowl Parade.

Sportswise, the Spartans were still trying to win a few games. The basketball teams showed improvement over their previous seasons. Girls had another new sport in softball.

Christmas vacation started on a happy note with the dismissal of school at noon on Tuesday the 23, because of the new construction. The vacation period was marred when a security guard was shot on campus.

Ron Jankov and Dianna Willich were Boy and Girl of the Month for December.

Old faculty dining room changed to on-campus radio station, KCHS

The new faculty dining room opened on Thursday, February 19. The old dining room was converted into a closed-circuit radio station. It was on the air during both lunch hours in the cafeteria area. The station's call letters were KCHS.

A smoking poll was conducted by Student Government to test students' opinions to smoking policies of the school.

The first annual National Honor Society Book sale was held in front of the cafeteria after school. NHS sold required class paperback texts and returned the money to the original owners.

The Luke Air Force Rock and Roll Band entertained at an assembly on Friday, February 13, in the gym.

February Boy and Girl of the Month were George Metzger and Jaine Wendorf.

Girl's, Boy's Staters participate in modern government workings

Boys and Girls State, sponsored by the American Legion, were designed to let the young student understand the workings of a modern government at the state, county, city and precinct levels.

A state was formed based on Arizona and the Arizona Constitution.

Boys State was held on the Northern Arizona University campus and lasted one week. Cities, counties and traffic cops were created for the project.

Girls State took place on the NAU campus early in the summer and also lasted a week.

Students who had finished their junior year were eligible to attend and were nominated by teachers.

National Merit Semi Finalists top 5% of state

Receiving scores in the top .5% of the state on the PSAT, Valerie Bert, Mike Filigenzi, John Gallagher, Doug Garant, Ethan Rauch, Nancy Tribbensee, and Dianna Willich qualified to become National Merit Semi-Finalists.

The seven students were some of the 15,000 semi-finalists across the nation, competing for more than 3,000 scholarships, or $1,000 National Merit Scholarships available to the semi-finalists who became finalists.

Members of the Student Board of Education acted as an advisory council to the Board of Education.

By voicing student opinions and ideas, representatives Woody Richardson and Dianna Willich strove to attain the goal of betterment in all phases of education.

After serving on the Board, Woody and Dianna both discovered they understood more about why schools have certain regulations and requirements.

BHS student representative to the Citizens Advisory Council was Jim Ogsbury. Ogsbury, a junior, was appointed by the Student Executive Board to hold this position.

The CAC is the taxpayers' voice to the school board. School regulations, activities, and community affairs were among the topics discussed this year. Meetings were held monthly at the District Administrative Offices, and attended by approximately 50 members, each representing a different aspect of community life.

PMA awards scholarships to students in Music Department

Margie Heinle, Paul Cooke, and Robert Rodack received the Cressey Award, Cooke Award, and Judd Shafer Award, respectively. These honors are bestowed each year to exceptional music students at CBHS.

The PMA, in conjunction with Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Silvester, awarded NAU Summer Music Camp scholarships to attend Drum Major Camp at Boise State University, in Idaho.

While attending camp, many CBHS students received scholarships and awards from NAU. Patty Rodack, Paul Cooke, and Debbie Wilczewski were chosen to return next year, free of charge, to be camp counselors. Kathy Wells and Ray Kilday received the Choir and Jazz Awards, respectively. These awards include full tuition scholarships to attend camp next year.

11 art students win Gold Keys for paintings, pottery, drawings

Recognized by the Scholastic Art Awards Program for their achievement in art, eleven CBHS students received Gold Keys.

Winning projects were examples of several types of art. Paintings were oil, watercolor, and acrylic. Pottery included free form vessels and objects. Pencil sketches were also entered.

Carl Kelly won the Valley National Bank Sponsor Award for his entry - a ceramic truck. This entitled him to enter the State Scholastic Art Show, and receive a monetary prize.

Out of five Gold Keys awarded for work in ceramics, CBHS students received three of them. Vic Verbalaitis, ceramic teacher, attributed this to much hard work.

Students tour Europe during summer, learn about countries

By visiting Madrid, Spain; Rome, Italy; Florence, Italy; Paris, France; and London, England, members of the Foreign Study League gained a better knowledge of foreign cultures and lifestyles.

The trip lasted 28 days, allowing approximately 4-5 days in each city. The group, consisting of 11 members from CBHS, visited many places of artistic, architectural, and cultural beauty, in addition to attending various musical and theatrical performances.

Throughout the span of the trip's length, students studied the governmental and historical significance of each country visited, enabling them to receive an elective credit toward graduation.

Staff bestows Sweetheart title on Mary, Larry

Mary McCarthy and Larry Ashton were chosen as the 1976 Blade Sweethearts. This honor is bestowed annually upon one or two seniors who have contributed their time and talents to the school and community.

Mary is the Concert Chairperson of Orchesis, the modern dance group, and has also been active in the Drama Department. She plans to attend Phoenix College and study dance. She is also interested in music.

Larry is the president of Masque & Gavel, and has been in or connected with all of the drama productions since his freshman year. He was one of four boys enrolled in Orchesis during his senior year.

SHIELD staff honors seniors Rodack, Jankov

Basing their decision on all aspects of personal accomplishments, the yearbook staff chose Patty Rodack and Ron Jankov to reign as 1975-76 SHIELD Royalty. It was felt by the staff that the two seniors selected had not previously been sufficiently recognized.

Singing dominated Patty's contributions in music throughout high school. Advancing from Girls' Chorus to Concert Choir in her junior year, she had leads in both musicals, and was named Choir's "Best Actress of the Year" for her portrayal of Bloody Mary, in "South Pacific." As a senior, she was vice-president of Choir, and sang with Camelback Singers. Serving as manager of the Spartan Band also occupied a great deal of her time.

During the course of her high school years, Patty's club memberships included Bible, International, Girls' League, Parnassus, NHS, SNHS and WOC.

For three consecutive years, Patty was awarded PMA scholarships to attend NAU Summer Music Camp. While at camp during the summer of '75, she was the recipient of a NAU Senior Award, enabling her to return the following year as a counselor.

By excelling academically, Patty graduated number nine in the Class of '76. She plans to continue her schooling by studying in the medical field.

Ron has shown his athletic prowess by participating in Freshman, Junior Varsity, and Varsity Basketball, Junior Varsity Golf, and Freshman Tennis. During the past two years he has played summer league basketball.

As a Boys' State delegate, Ron was elected to the office of State Treasurer; the highest title attained by any of the CBHS representatives.

During his senior year, Ron served as secretary of the Key Club. He was also appointed to the position of Lieutenant Governor for the Key Club's southwest district. This area includes Arizona, New Mexico, and West Texas.

Ron loves to travel, and enjoys skiing, surfing, and playing the piano. He is also interested in business management; namely in the stock and bond markets.

Ranked number eight in the senior class, Ron plans to continue his education by majoring in engineering.

Orchesis strives for recognition as true art form

Orchesis, the dance performance class, strove to make modern dance recognized as a true art form at CBHS.

With only four students returning from last year, the group was not as experienced as in years past, but according to instructor Denise Jobski, the members displayed tremendous motivation.

Each girl had to audition to become a member of the class. Once accepted, they composed their own routines by combining modern, jazz, ballet, and primitive dance styles.

Spartan Band ranks superior on Band Day

After rating the CBHS Marching Band "Superior," the judges at ASU Band Day commented that ours was the best band on the field.

Participating in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in Washington D.C. was among the Marching-Concert Band's highest points of the year. Other activities included marching in the Veteran's Day Parade, performing for the State Senate in January, joining the ASU Symphonic Band for a concert, playing a Bicentennial concert at Symphony Hall, and competing in the Mountain States Music Festival in May.

The Flag and Rifle Corps were introduced as a new section of the Marching Band. Consisting of approximately 25 girls, primarily underclassmen, the Corps were added to increase color and spirit.

Throughout the entire school year, the Band practiced at least six hours every week, in addition to class time. Four more hours were required during marching season, bringing the total rehearsal time to ten hours per week, not including the five hour-long class periods.

Members of the Spartan Marching Band stand at attention erectly in rows as this year's Homecoming halftime activities proceed.

Concert Choir chosen to perform in Washington D.C. celebration

Chosen as the sole vocal group to perform at the St Patrick's Day parade in Washington, D.C., the Concert Choir concentrated their major efforts toward preparing for the March tour.

Consisting of 68 members, the Choir sang at many events. Their first public appearance of the year was one week after school started, at the CBHS Bicentennial kick-off. Other performances included singing at the PMA Spaghetti Dinner, Christmas Assembly, and their own Parent Night. The Parent Night concert, presented in early November, received a standing ovation from those attending. During the last number, a medley of old songs, the audience was invited to sing along. In February, Choir put on a show in East High's auditorium.

To help finance their trip to Washington, D.C., the Choir joined forces with the Band. In addition to sponsoring a dance during the football season, the groups sold candy, pretzels, spirit T-shirts, and kazoos. Several off campus car washes and auctions were held, as was a community newspaper drive.

Jazz Laboratory competes in NAJE festivals

Consisting of approximately twenty members, the Jazz Laboratory met every day during seventh hour.

By concentrating their major efforts toward learning basic jazz theory, the students developed their abilities in blues improvisation; a form of impromptu performance that involves playing a melody line over specific chord patterns.

Performing as a group, the Jazz Lab participated in all the in-state NAJE festivals. They also sponsored several of their own concerts.

Playing selections described by conductor William Silvester as "good music," the CBHS Orchestra rehearsed every day during fourth hour.

Their repertoire consisted of a wide variety of music styles. Some of the pieces they played included DeBussey's "Claire de Lune," excerpts from Handel's "Messiah," and the English folk song "Greensleeves."

The Orchestra performed in the Christmas Assembly, and participated in the Mountain States Music Festival in May.

Camelback Singers perform for donations at local churches

Composed of the twenty top voices from Concert Choir, the Camelback Singers performed as a group separate from it.

In addition to singing at several luncheons and club meetings, the ensemble visited various local churches and sang for donations. All proceeds went toward financing the Choir's trip to Washington, D.C.

Singing songs that were selected to provide a wide cross section of vocal music, the Advanced Girls' Chorus rehearsed daily during sixth hour.

In early November, the girls sang at the Concert Choir's Parent Night. Also during this time, they sold Astropops to help finance their trip to the Grand Canyon. The excursion was held in May.

Co-Editors Richardson, Bolek help staff reorganize book

Breaking with tradition, the 1976 Shield had co-editors-in-chiefs. Karen Richardson and Jim Bolek, juniors, led an inexperienced staff in completing a 280 page book.

Several departures from tradition were used to update the book. These included the addition of an honors section and the rearranging of the book to put stress on academics.

The staff was composed of sophomores, juniors, and seniors who were new to publications. The class learned to put out the book by doing.

Fulfilling student, school needs project for student government

Representing students and fulfilling the needs of the school was the purpose of the Student Senate. Bills passed included appropriating money to sponsor students going to the Model United Nations Convention in Tucson, and to provide money for Freedom Month.

"One of the main problems with the Student Senate is that senators sit through a meeting confused with procedure, and then after the meeting, they complain," commented Senate President Larry Benjamin.

One way to rectify this, he said, was to get more senators to participate in the issues and to have a better understanding of parliamentary procedure.

The Student Executive officers put ideas together, made decisions and then presented them to students for their ideas and opinions.

Students find new careers in HERO

H E.R.O. held their annual car wash at the beginning of the year. Funds raised by this event were highly successful in aiding the club.

"Members received three units credit for HERO, but we consider it more of a club than a class," stated President Donna Schroeder.

HERO, or Home Economic Related occupations, is a service club established to help students with careers in home economics.

HERO members attended school first through third periods. Fifth through seventh periods, members worked in an off-campus job dealing with human relations.

DECA cheese sales earn way to annual mart

Wisconsin cheese was a major sale for DECA, as they attempted to earn their way to the annual merchandising mart held in California. Also planned were visits to the Sears Distribution Center, Universal City and Disneyland. Other trips included the 12th annual Del Webb Regional held in Tucson to promote career development.

DECA's purpose is to build future leaders in marketing, merchandising, and business, and is open to any junior or senior enrolled in a merchandising or marketing class.

DECA sponsor Charlene Lyons commented that the group was functioning much more as a whole this year and had become more active. One of the most successful events, the group seemed to feel, was the installation breakfast held in November.

Key Club helps underprivileged in buddy program

Money making projects for the Key Club included calendar sales, featuring calendars with a picture of a Key Club member and a campus girl. The Key Club also sponsored a dance on Friday, February 13.

Community projects that the Key Club participated in included helping in the Gompers Festival, Parks and Recreation evening classes, and a special Buddy Program in which Key Club members helped disadvantaged children in the valley.

School projects included helping to repair the baseball field and grandstands, and donating $300 to the Camelback Symphonic Marching Band.

Key Club is a nation-wide organization associated with the Kiwanis Club. It is one of 3,578 Key Clubs in the United States, with a total of 80,000 members.

Arete leaves for February Sunrise ski trip

The main objective of Arete was to promote girls' athletics. All of Arete's 65 members had to follow the prerequisite of receiving a varsity letter.

School projects that Arete participated in included a progressive dinner in which Arete members ate one course of a seven course meal at different houses; the school can drive, in which Arete raised 45 cans; and decorating the girls shower room with posters dedicated to different teachers.

Arete also went Christmas caroling at the Desert Crest Hospital.

The main event for Arete was the ski trip to sunrise on February 28-29. Arete members tried to raise enough money so that they would not have to pay for their trip. In order to do this, they sold candy bars, pretzels, and items at park-and-swap.

Interact club sponsors Korean orphanage, organizes blood drive

Interact's main objective was to constructively serve the community. Secretary Barbara Malmstone said, "Interact sponsored a Bike-A-Thon to support a Korean orphanage, organized a community blood drive, and helped disabled children. We also sanded and repainted the picnic tables at

The club, consisting of approximately eighty-five members, also aided the Easter Seal Walk-A-Thon.

For relaxation, Interact sponsored a get-acquainted picnic and had several parties during the year.

Money-raising activities help fund camp for retarded; cancer society

Rainbow Acres, a camp for young retarded people on the Verde River, was partially funded by Leo, a service club. The club hand-picked mistletoe by the river and sold it to students during the Christmas season.

Leo also had volunteer workdays when members worked for a charity organization on a Saturday, and a twelve hour game-a-thon lasting from seven p.m. on a Friday night to seven a.m. the next morning to raise money for the American Cancer Society.

Leo had only sixteen members causing the president, Pam Corbin, to comment, "Although we were such a small club, everyone worked hard and did their jobs."

Using a pole to get to hard to reach places, Sponsor Charles Fuentez and some club members gather holly.

Dorian helps Gompers carnival; holds food fair

Christmas caroling around the valley, selling mums on campus, and helping out on the Gompers Carnival were some of the projects for Dorian. The club also helped with the International Food Fair on the night of the Freshmen-Sophomore Basketbrawl game.

During the Spring, members went to lake Pleasant to act as counselors for six and seven year old girls affiliated with YWCA.

The club was sponsored by YWCA, and was open to any female student except freshmen.

Spartaticians aid coaches with sports activities

Spartaticians' main purpose was to aid coaches by keeping statistical information of all major sporting events. The club worked at junior varsity and varsity levels.

To raise funds for uniform shirts to be worn at games, the Spartaticians had a car wash and sold "Love Pops."

The group was open to any girl interested in athletics.

New program tutors students with all classes

One of the newest programs in the English Department was the student tutoring program. Student tutors received one credit for their participation.

The purpose of student tutoring was to offer free and reliable tutoring for all classes taught at CBHS, while giving other students the opportunity to gain experience in a possible teaching career. Tutors assisted students with homework or specific educational skills. Tutoring was offered first through seventh hours, and headed by Ms. Tear and Ms. Constable.

Using the book, How to Take Good Pictures, Clay Graham, Tim McManamon, and Paul Salisbury study some special effect techniques to be used in some photographs.

National Honor Society makes transition to service group

National Honor Society was an honor club, "although," its president, Mary Fylstra, said, "we are trying to be more of a service club."

One project was the paperback book bazaar which was a way for students to sell to other students, the books that had to be bought for classes. All funds received by NHS were passed on to the original book owners.

There was little need for any fund raising for the club, since the only expenditures involved induction ceremonies and the gold tassels worn on the mortarboards of the top five-percent of the graduating class.

Carla Bruning, Dianna Willich, and Valerie Bert sell a book to Glenn Button in their Paperback Book Bazaar. The books were sold and all the money was turned over to the original owners of the books.

FNHS members attain fluency with language

The French National Honor Society is an academic group devoted to helping students gain a fluency with the language; this helps them with national tests and college entrance exams. Students in the Society must have a 1 grade average in French and a 2+ grade average in other classes.

Social activities included fondue dinners and foreign film showings. They were conducted completely in French.

SNHS members attend "Man of La Mancha"

Horseback riding, attending a performance of the Broadway play Man of La Mancha and a trip to Nogales were some of the activities of the Spanish National Honor Society.

The Society is designed to culture students in the Spanish language, literature and arts. To be a member, a student must have three semesters of 1's. College classes are made easier by being a member of the Society, and by being exposed to how language will be taught at the college level.

Dance, trip to Nogales, held by International

Various activities of the International Club included a trip to the Heard Museum, Greek Village, and having an inter-club party. Featured at the party were foods of many different nations. The club also sponsored a dance during the basketball season. Money raised by the dance was used to charter a bus to Nogales in May

The club was open to any student that had taken a foreign language, and was interested in other cultures.

Art Club silk screens posters, cotton t-shirts

One of the main activities of the Art Club was silk screening. They specialized in silk screening T-shirts and posters.

"The purpose of the Art Club is to get people who are interested in art together and learn different aspects of art," stated President Jim Bolek.

The Art club, sponsored by Don Clouse, consists of approximately ten art students.

The club officers were: Jim Bolek, president; Lynn Welch, vice-president; Mandy Ray, secretary; and Laura Abdilla, treasurer.

This year also marked the second time that the club silk screened.

Keramos sells pottery to raise money for student art gallery

Keramos' main activity was a field trip to explore the Salt River Bed. The club observed the different shapes and forms found on the river, and used these to create ceramic art. Some other activities scheduled were: trips to art galleries, studios, and museums. The club also had clay digs, guest artist-lecturers, demonstrations, pottery sales, and did raku pottery.

Club sponsor Victor Verbalatis arranged field trips to local pottery sites.

The club was organized three years ago for students desiring experience beyond the classroom in ceramic arts.

Girls Athletic Association dropped in membership

Girls Athletic Association declined in membership this year. Due to this factor, the club tried to aim its activities towards freshmen girls. Sponsor Ms. Barbara Hippensteel felt that the varsity sports added to the problem, because most upper class girls on teams couldn't find time for GAA.

GAA had several archery tournaments, racketball and volleyball games as after school activities. miniature golf, along with roller skating, ice skating and bowling were the sports participated in at night. GAA also had their annual Pot Luck Picnic at Squaw Peak Park. New activities included a trip to the Grand Canyon, and going to see the Phoenix Suns play.

Ms. Hippensteel, said, "Although our group is smaller this year, the girls have been quite active."

Created so that students would have a chance to have a court and play, the Handball Club also held handball and racketball tournaments.

"We taught the basic rules to new students, but we're not really a formal club," said Handball sponsor, Dick Allegretti.

Masque & Gavel presented, as their two major productions, Interview & The Serpent and The Madwoman of Chaillot. The fall production was dramatic and the spring production was a comedy. The plays were performed at Phoenix Little Theatre and North High this year, due to CBHS' loss of its drama room.

The club also sponsored a Christmas party and an end of the year banquet, as well as Beginning Drama One-Acts presented at Madison #2.

Masque & Gavel members participated in plays, either in the casts or on crews, selling play tickets, and attending various speech tournaments.

"The club is growing bigger and

CBHS Forensic Team takes sweepstakes majority of times

The CBHS Forensic Team once again won first place sweepstakes trophies at most every tournament attended.

"We have a very strong team this year, in fact the best we've had in many years," stated Mr. James Harvey. "We've been taking an unbelievable number of first places in each category of each tournament we go to. We've got powerful speakers in every category. It's incredible!"

The size of the team has doubled in the last two years. It is now attracting freshmen as well as juniors and seniors.

This year, the State Speech Tournament was in Flagstaff. Along with the students eligible to compete on state level, CBHS sent the entire A.I.A. speech team along to cheer the participants on and to make the trip more enjoyable.

At district and state tournaments each school may enter a scene from a play. The selection chosen must not exceed 20 minutes. This year's scene was from The Night Thoreau Spent In Jail, a drama. The students in it had to audition. The cast was: Larry Ashton, Kirk Orlando, Randy Sanders, Lynda Cameron, Gary Sacks, and Carol Cummings.

One major change in Forensics was that the district financed the tournaments instead of Masque & Gavel. This allowed the team to rent buses for the tournaments with the money normally spent entering the participants.

Mr. Harvey discusses utopian ideals with the Forensic Team.

Flag, Pom sell greeting cards to raise money

Pom and Flag combined their talents in the performing of several dances through the year. Their new dances included Yankee Doodle Dandy for the Homecoming Assembly, and Sweet Georgia Brown for the Basketball Pep Assembly.

Both the Pom and Flag lines participated in the Rodeo and Fiesta bowl parades, and the high school Band Day at A.S.U.

Other activities included selling greeting cards and sponsoring Flag and Pom clinics. The girls practiced an average of eight hours per week, and also practiced with the band during the football session.

The girls also had numerous fund raising activities such as a "Spartan Button" sale, "Shamrock Gram" sale, and greeting card sale.

The girls tried to raise school spirit by promoting enthusiasm within the team members. This included sponsoring a breakfast for the Varsity Basketball players.

The line consisted of five seniors and one junior.

Varsity gridgers win league title in playoff game

With only three defensive starters returning, lack of experience, and not being able to play as a team, hurt the beginning Varsity season. But as the season progressed, experience was gained and the team improved.

Going into their league games with a one win, four loss record, the optimistic Spartan team knew what had to be done. Winning four consecutive league games, the Spartans faced Alhambra for the league title. The Lions caught the Spartans sleeping too many times, winning 17-7. It wasn't over yet, for now was a "Colorado play-off."

Drawing a bye, Camelback was to face the winner between Alhambra and Phoenix Union. Playing Alhambra for league again, each team got ten plays, alternating the possession of the ball after each play. With each team scoring, the game ended in a 7-7 tie. Two additional alternating plays were used, with Camelback getting the ball first.

An Alhambra offsides and a three yard run by Stan Burger gave us a total of eight yards. With Alhambra failing to gain yardage, the game was won by Camelback, 9-7.

The Phoenix division game matched Maryvale and Camelback. The Spartans only score came in the fourth quarter with less than three minutes left. By then it was too late. Maryvale won 35-7.

Sophomore quarterback Tom Schneider hands off to runningback Jon Adams to gain yardage up the middle against Phoenix Union.

With help from blocker Jason LaBenz (70), runningback Rick Brooks (42) gains yardage on the hand-off from quarterback Tony Miller (12).

Rocko Westfall, this year's team captain led the team to a hard earned 6-4 season. One other team member whom both the coaches and team alike agreed showed exceptional ability, was Rick Brooks. Rick, for most of the year, excelled as a runningback. Randy Morder, another runningback, and Henry Hemminghaus as linebacker, combined their efforts to aid the team and gain recognition as two of this years most improved players.

Eight team members were drafted this season to the Varsity team because of their outstanding abilities during the JV year. Among these was Tom Sersow, who was moved up at the beginning of the year and played out the season actively with the Varsity athletes.

Giving everyone a chance to play is what is important about Freshman football," stated Coach Dick McKivergan. "We made sure this was done." As in past years, the teams were selected by weight, not their ability to play. "We had a really good group of freshmen," continued Coach McKivergan.

Although the team's only loss was against East, Alhambra was noted as the team's outstanding game because of "team effort" put into the game.

Team effort achieved as no outstanding players chosen

"Quickness and hitting" were what made three-year Coach Wertz's Lightweight Freshman Football Team so good this year. Because it was the first game of the season, and the opponent being the team that they usually don't beat, the Maryvale game was cited as the team's most outstanding game.

The only game lost this season was the last game against Alhambra.

"Disorganization and injuries to key players were what caused the loss," stated the Coach. Mr. Wertz continually insisted that there were no "Most Outstanding" player(s) on his team. Yet, he did give credit to - Steve Tassinari, Defensive Captain and Ray Rawlins, Offensive Captain. The Coach also stated that Steve Kumagai was the "Most Improved" player.

Team places fifth in division, Brady chosen most valuable

The Cross Country team directed by Hans Schoenborn came in third out of twenty-two schools at the State meet held in November. The team also placed fifth, out of the twelve teams participating, at divisionals.

Training for the team starts in September, running five to eight miles a day. Sprint running and weight-lifting are also done as training.

According to Coach Schoenborn, the most exciting meet was against Phoenix Union. "The team was shocked when they beat them 21-32," stated Schoenborn.

For the third consecutive year, Greg Brady was chosen as the most valuable runner. Brian Ziegler was selected as most improved, and Mike Chastaine was chosen as the most enthusiastic runner.

Divisionals and third consecutive state title gained

Ending the season with losing only two of ninety-nine games, the Varsity squad took the state championship for their third consecutive year. The team also captured first place at the divisional tournament.

Singles representative at both divisionals and state was Jeri Christian. Jeri, a junior, captured first at divisional tournament.

Singles representative at both divisionals and state was Jeri Christian. Jeri, only a junior, captured first at divisionals, and was runner-up at the state tournament.

Also placing first at the division tournament and second at State was the doubles team of Sharon Brandt and Barb Long. The other doubles team of Tracy Pellonari and Annette Pennington took fifth place at Divisionals, and had an outstanding third place win at State.

Commenting on the team's performance, Coach Janet Shaler said, "I've had the team for four years, and this year's squad has been the best by far. One of the reasons the team was so strong is we worked on strategy, rather than having to learn it. To do well at State, you must be able to take the competitive pressure. All the girls were capable of doing this very well."

Despite the fact the junior varsity returned only one member, the team ended their season with an eleven win, no loss record. The team consisted of two juniors and five sophomores.

"The JV team did much better than I expected," explained Ms. Shaler, "I was pleased with their performance since I spent little time with them. I concentrated a lot on the Varsity members."

Junior Clare Sup received the "Most Valuable JV" trophy. Gail Grove was awarded the title of "Most Improved."

Teams hurt from not enough time at seasons' start

Having less than two weeks of practice before their first match presented problems for the team from the start. "It just wasn't enough time to get the team organized," stated Coach Barbara Hippensteel. "I had to break a lot of bad habits the girls picked up playing in grade school."

Practices, consisting of warm-ups to strengthen their skills, basic drills, and practice games, were held daily.

Trevor Browne was cited as the team's outstanding match, although losing two of the three games played.

Sheryl Nobley was awarded the title of most valuable. "Sheryl had a deadly spike, and an overhand serve that was hard to return," state Ms. Hippensteel.

Starting the season out with an underhand serve and ending with an overhand serve, Jolene Heywood received the title of most improved.

Winning the plays when it counted and team work were the strongest parts of the junior varsity squad. But again, time was the key factor in a disappointing season, ending with three wins, six losses.

Kathy Haberer CBHS low medalist at district, state

Although the loss of five experienced golfers hurt, the girls Varsity golf team acquired team victories at both the district and state tournament. Going to these tournaments with an undefeated season record, the team placed third at the district tournament and fourth at state. Junior Kathy Haberer was low medalist for Camelback at both tournaments. Kathy played number one throughout most of the season.

A better place at both district and state could have been made if the rules were the same as season play. Season matches count five scores, but tournament play counts only four. "This AIA rule has gone against us many times," stated Coach Gretchen James.

For their overall play and contribution to the team, Becky Free and Kathy Haberer shared the title of "Most Valuable Varsity" member. Lottie McFadden and Mary Discher were both chosen as "Most Improved."

Leading the team in both scoring and rebounding, Jay Swartz was cited as the Most Valuable player by Coach Lothar Goernitz. Swartz was selected on the first string A League team, and second string Phoenix Division team, as center.

Lacking size, which hurt the team in rebounds, along with a poor shooting percentile, were the reasons behind the apparent lack of success.

"I was very pleased with the overall team effort," stated Goernitz. "We had good hustle and worked very hard, although the season record doesn't show it. But, if you look at the game scores, alot of our losses were within a couple points."

Dickie Westfall was voted as Captain of the team. Karlan Hake was chosen as the best defensive player, and Steve Pinto received the Best Hustler award.

Both freshmen basketball teams were successful

Averaging 12.5 points per game and totaling 212 points, Dave Waters led the Freshman Orange team in scoring. Jeff Dubnow was the second highest scorer, averaging 8.3 points per game. John Robb and Tom Davenport were also cited for their contributions to the team, along with Marc Nelson who grabbed the most rebounds.

After the loss of their first three games, the team had to play catch up in order to post a winning season. "Our season was successful mainly because of the improvement we made," stated Coach Pete Kellen.

Trevor Browne was cited as the team's outstanding game of the season because of the team effort put into the game.

Aggressiveness and competitive spirit were why Coach Jesse Parker's Freshman Basketball Team was so successful.

"The team's quickness and ball handling ability made up for the usual lack of height," stated Coach Parker.

Danny Anderson and Marty Hedlund led the team in scoring.

Although the team compiled only one win, Coach Dick McKivergan felt the wrestlers had a good season. According to McKivergan, the main difference between the wrestlers here and the ones at South, where he coached a state championship team, is attitude. Actually, to become a good wrestler one must have skill, strength, desire, and aggressiveness.

Divisionals saw most of the wrestlers still in competition until the qualifying round for state. Tim Savitt was the only wrestler to qualify, placing second in his weight division. Much improvement had been made this year, especially at divisionals, when twenty six points were earned, compared to the six scored last year. "The boys finally found out that its fun to win," said McKivergan.

First seasons' losses due to lack of offense

Not having a strong offensive team hurt the Varsity squad badly in their first intra-mural season. Ending their league play with four wins, four losses, their chance for the district play-offs was lost when beaten by West.

"The need of intersquad games is important," stated Coach Michelle Filkins. "The team needs to be put into game situations so they'll know what to do at a given time."

Because of the team effort put into the game, the game against South, the second time the teams met, was chosen as the team's outstanding game of the season.

Outfielders Delania Gallardo, Sheryl Nobley and Clare Sup, along with shortstop Mary Discher, were cited as outstanding players on the team.

"The season was a little disappointing because we failed to make it to divisionals, but as a whole, the team did learn alot," commented Captain Mary Discher. "With all the experience we gained, we should do a better job next year."

With eight returning lettermen, the Varsity Baseball team played with an average of less than one error per game, and won five of their first six games. Coach Charlie Webb said this was due to "exceptional defense" and "maturity in the positions played."

Jeff Riddle was the best hitter on the team, with an exceptional .320 average and most RBIs. Tom Allen played second base with no errors.

Boy's Golf team wins first annual Camelback meet

The Arizona Biltmore, the practice range for the boys' golf team, was the site for the first annual Camelback Invitational Golf Tournament. Fourteen teams competed for the title, with CBHS coming up on top. Of the sixty four individuals competing, Ed Kilthau finished second with 75, Mario Olivarez tied for third with 77, Fred Tegarden tied for sixth with 78, and Gary Cruse tied for eighth with 79 strokes.

Kilthau and Tegarden currently hold the top positions on the team, averaging 38 strokes in the matches.

Sophomore Jay Phillips competes in the 100-meter butterfly event in a home meet against Washington. Since CBHS does not have a pool, home meets are held at West High School.

Swimming in the 500-meter free style event, David Thompson comes up for a breath, nearing the end of the race.

Laura Nowland prepares to make her forward dive off the one meter board by first getting the right height.

Girls tennis holds State title, Invitational victory

The West High Invitational tournament produced another first place team victory, their third consecutive one. Maggie Morris and Joni Keller teamed up to take first in the doubles competition, while Diane Ruch took fourth place in singles.

First place victories in singles and doubles, combined with a fourth place win in doubles, gave the team enough points to be tied with Central High for the district championship for 1975. Lynn Cox won the singles title, easily beating her opponent in straight sets. The duo of Annette Pennington and Maggie Morris combined their talent to take first place in the doubles competition. The other doubles team, consisting of Pat Courtney and Jeri Christian, took fourth place, qualifying them for state. Diane Ruch, the other singles entry, gained valuable advancement points for the team, enabling them to tie for the title.

A State title was gained after eleven unsuccessful years. Lynn placed second in the singles competition, losing in the finals in split sets. Annette and Maggie took a hard earned fourth place victory in doubles. Pat and Jeri took a tough draw, losing first round to the team who went on to win the competition.

Being young and inexperienced made the Junior Varsity squad weaker than usual. The team consisted of two juniors, four sophomores, and two freshmen.

Although losing two games to seven, Central High was chosen as the team's most outstanding game. "The score does not show how close the match was. We were in four tiebreakers and unfortunately lost three of them," stated Coach Janet Shaler.

Tina Grimm, junior, follows through after serving the ball. Tina held the number two position on the Jr. Varsity team.

Junior Maggie Morris slices a return of serve in a doubles match at practice. Maggie held an undefeated record at midseason.

Rookie Coach Buehler heads team to victory

Ending their season with eleven wins and no losses, the freshman boys' tennis team was cited as "the best team the school has had," by Coach Bob Hudson. Harley Eisner and Paul Kovarik, playing number one and two, led their team to the school's first undefeated season.

With winning by only one game, the team agreed that their toughest match was against Central.

The girls' freshman tennis team ended with a ten win, one loss record, losing only to Central. The team was coached by Marilyn Buehler.

Miriam Hayenga, voted as the most valuable player, played in the number one position through out the season. Susan Gorman received the "hustle plus" award, and Pam Wugalter was chosen as the "most improved" player. Pam, along with Connie Stiteler, remained undefeated throughout the season.

National title gained for fifth consecutive time

The B team, consisting of Chris Pugh, Patti Sutton, Mary Discher, Carol Sup and alumni Becky Perry, placed second in the nation in their division. The team was composed of archers who didn't shoot as well as the intermediates, yet better than the beginners.

With only six months archery experience, freshmen Robin Wools, Susie Majors, Judy Heinicke, Tricia Doyle and Robi Shepard put together a C team and placed third in the nation in their division. Individually, Robin placed second, Robi third and Susie sixth.

Fifteen CBHS archers entered in three different divisions, competed for the National title last August. Senior Carole Cheuvront and Patti Iske, along with alumnis Sandi Van Kilsdonk and Jocelyn Wendorf, brought home gold medals for winning the A team title. In the five years the girls have attended Nationals, five titles have been won and thirty-three national records have been set in their respective divisions.

In the intermediate girls clout, Sandi placed third, with Patti right behind her in fourth. This division has the girls shooting at targets 140 yards away.

Eighth State title belongs to Girls Archery team

Although our two top archers were not able to compete in the state tournament, the CBHS archery team won their eighth consecutive state title in 1975.

Shooting a collegiate 600, Janie individually placed second, with Patti coming in fourth, Chris fifth, Marie seventh, and Jocelyn ninth.

When the State Archery Tournament for 1975 was being held, our top two archers did not compete. Instead, Sandi Van Kilsdonk and Carol Cheuvront were in St. Louis, Missouri trying out for the USA Archery team. In order to compete in the World Target Archery Tournament, held in Switzerland, one must place in the top four positions. With only the top men and women trying out for a position on the team, former CBHS archer Irene Lorensen placed first. In fifth place, missing the team by just four points, was Carole, and Sandi close behind, placed sixth. "To have three archers in the top six places was quite an accomplishment," said Coach Gretchen James.

State champions for 1975 include: Jocelyn Wendorf, Chris Pugh, Coach Gretchen James, Marie Van Kilsdonk, and Janie Wendorf.

Junior Carol Sup marks off where the arrows have landed, so if a rebound should occur, they would know where it hit.

In order to keep her arrow on target, Janie Wendorf holds her stance after releasing her arrow.

Gymnastics successful during second season

The girls' gymnastics team's second year of competition started with two consecutive victories. Instead of the beginning routines performed last year, the girls did class-two intermediate compulsory routines at their meets.

Shannon Deppner, Sally Sanford and Liz Mathews went "all around" in their meets, performing in each of the four exercises. Individuals cited as outstanding in events included: Christi Yonker and Liz Mathews on the uneven parallel bars; Shannon Deppner and Sally Sanford on the floor exercise; Julie Orr, Lisa Bierer and Liz Mathews on the balance beam; and Shannon Deppner, Leslie Hall and Sally Sanford on the vaulting horse.

"With East High being the only other school in the district having a gymnastics team, it was quite a thrill to beat them," stated Coach Monica Healey. This was Ms. Healey's first year coaching the team.

Academics

Districtwide construction begins in 1975-76 year

The passing of the Phoenix Union High School System Bond Election in Spring of last year gave the system over twenty million dollars to improve education in the PUHSS. Among the improvements will be the construction of auditoriums for both Central and Camelback High Schools.

The board moved for the expansion of Title 9, by increasing equal opportunity in sports activities. Dr. Gerald DeGrow, Superintendent of PUHSS, commented,

"We have developed one of the best girls physical education programs around, and I hope we can continue to expand and increase it."

Additionally, the Board of Education has provided Forensic teams with travel expense funds, promoted the enlargement of the exceptional education program in all schools, and assisted the Maryvale and Camelback Bands in attending national bicentennial kickoffs in march of this year.

Administration serves CBHS students, staff

Serving his first year at Camelback, Principal Jack Comstock emphasizes that, "The administration's purpose is to serve the students and teachers; it all comes down to learning." Comstock came from Michigan, where he was the principal of a 10th through 12th grade school.

The North Central Evaluation, campus construction projects, and music department's trip to Washington, D.C. kept the administrative staff busy throughout the year. Working as a team, the administration was highly successful in organizing and guiding this year's activities.

Comstock commented, "I am tremendously impressed with the state of Arizona and its people, and I am very proud to be associated with this cooperative group of people here at Camelback."

Video Productions new class for fundamentals of television

Video Productions, a one semester course introduced this year, was designed to teach the fundamentals of working in the television industry and how it relates to today's society in its use as an entertainment, advertising, and educational media.

Mr. James Harvey, the instructor, required the students to produce their own programs using the video tape equipment in the Instructional Materials Center in the library. Shows included demonstrations and parodies of actual television shows.

New emphasis was placed on Communications and Mass Media. The course was centered around teaching the students to be intelligent consumers of today's medias as well as to produce programs on their own.

Seminar students participate in individual studies

Students in the Science Seminar class, under the tutorage of Mrs. Ann Justus were encouraged to participate in individual studies throughout the year. Several students demonstrated their projects at the annual Arizona State Science Fair held in the spring.

A marked rise in student enrollment in the Biology 1 & 2 classes was attributed in increased student involvement in the curriculum during the year.

The increase prompted the department to add another section of Biology 1 & 2 to the program under the direction of Mr. Paul Plummer who was transferred from Trevor Browne.

Students learn about memory typewriter's use

Elva O'Quinn, business department chairman, expressed pride in the students taking Business Education and other business related classes.

Students learned to operate memory typewriters. The memory typewriter can double the efficiency of a good secretary, typing up to 260 words a minute. It operates on a preprogrammed tape which is fed into the machine. Specific names, dates, and places are added later and in this way documents and other necessary papers may be produced more rapidly.

The typewriters were kept at CBHS the first semester and then were sent to West High for the second semester. Ms. Charlene Lyons is the new H.E.R.O. teacher.

Camelback's Marching Band and Flag and Rifle Corps participated in the annual Fiesta Bowl Parade and half time festivities in preparation for a trip to Washington D.C. to be in the St. Patrick's Day Parade in March.

The Flag and Rifle Corps was added over the summer of 1975 and was under the direction of the band director's wife, Nancy Silvester.

At the Arizona State University Band Day at ASU Stadium, the band received perfect scores causing one official to comment, "If they had been the first band on the field, no other band would have received a first place rating."

Basic Art was reduced to a one semester class so that more varied classes could be offered to the students. Advanced Photography was offered.

Boy's P.E. has new sporting activities, continues old program

The Boy's Physical Education Department had a variety of new on and off-campus sports such as backpacking, bicycling, square dancing, and swimming at a neighborhood swimming center. The department continued the special courses that appeared to be popular with the student last year, such as Lifetime Sports, Advanced Sports and Weight Training.

Coach O'Jay Bourgeois stated that the department teachers tried to provide better supervision of the students and to be more consistent with each other in their grading procedures.

The department sponsored all the boys athletic teams, the Lettermen's Club, and the Key Club, and helped in all their activities.

Senior Keith Tang dribbles slowly down the basketball court in 3rd hour P.E.

Girls given choice of coaches, sports in program

Giving the girls their choice of teachers and sports activities was a new program for Girls' Physical Education. Sports they were able to select included roller skating, ice skating, soccer, and bowling.

P.E. had been phasing into co-educational activities due to recent government rulings. New co-ed classes included volleyball, tennis and softball.

During Physical Fitness Week, aerobic dancing and "running for awareness" were featured.

Ms. Monica Healey was added to the staff as a gymnastics teacher.

Juniors Mary Discher and Clare Sup fight to make a goal in fourth hour P.E. Field hockey was played often.

Junior Angie Tinklenburg throws an underhand pitch while playing softball in her third hour Physical Education class.

Child Development expanded into a regular yearly course

Evelyn Warren, who has been a faculty member for 2½ years, left the semester to teach at Mesa Community College.

"Creative Foods," a one semester course, was added to the curriculum to follow "Bachelor Survival." "Child Development" was expanded from a one semester class to a year long class.

Bicentennial activities included the study of foods that originated in the Revolutionary War Era.

Industrial Arts moves to new Shop building

During the spring the Industrial Art Department moved to the new building. It was located on the site of the former Varsity Baseball field.

The teachers and their classes supervised the loading and the placement of the equipment. Second semester the teachers began teaching their regular classes in the new building.

The new building was a welcome addition, because it entailed abandoning small cramped rooms for larger working areas with modern equipment, better lighting and just an overall improvement.

Counselors give individual help for all students

Lucio Martin, Counseling Department Head, along with seven other counselors worked with students individually this year. They helped students with their personal problems, careers, curriculum, college advisement and gave tests for student problems.

The only addition to the counseling staff this year was Richard McKivergan.

Centrex office phone system creates problems

Keeping track of absences, monitoring Opportunity Hall and administering aid to the injured were just part of the services performed for students this year.

For students with academic problems caused by various difficulties, there was a Learning Resource Center which provided them with individual help.

I.M.C. project designed to take inventory

Instructional Material Center worked on a new computer project designed to take inventory, buy new books and help in research for the students and teachers. Emily Stewart, director of the IMC, and Virginia Wyatt, worked in this area helping students and teachers in their curriculum.

Reduction in absences helps reduce dropouts

The new attendance policy gave students ten unexcused absences instead of last year's fifteen. This new policy increased attendance and helped lower the dropout rate.

Security team works to improve campus safety

The Security and Safety Program was implemented at CBHS in 1972. Mr. Ponder has resided as the Chief of Security since its beginning. His Senior Security Aid, Mrs. Marie Widing, has been in the program since 1973. Dan Kosak, a CBHS graduate, and Keith Ray, a former East High student began their first year as Security Aids this year.

The Security Division acted upon their primary goals: improving campus safety and maintaining good conduct among students.

New garbage compactor is improvement

The addition of the new faculty dining room made it easier to serve to the campus staff. Among the other additions were: a new trash compactor, expansion of the warehouse complex, and the dining room patio.

The custodial staff kept busy aiding the construction company in preparing and cleaning areas for construction. The maintenance staff was also active in setting up public address systems for night meetings and school-hour groups.

Apathy plagues Freshmen, class council inactive

Due to a lack of participation, the Freshmen Class Council called meetings only occasionally. Ms. Melba Constable commented, "The lack of cohesiveness if thought to be caused by students' new adjustment to high school life."

Frosh activities included candy cane sales, a profitable car wash, basketbrawl activities, and the usual yuletide chain. Working with a select number of students, the class managed to raise enough money to build up their incoming balance of 'nothing.'

It is the hope of this year's sponsors that the class of '79 will grow in spirit.

Sophs donate carnations to elderly ladies

The Sophomore Class earned 105 dollars by washing cars. The money was used for a Halloween party for hospitalized children at St. Joseph's Hospital. Cookies and candy were distributed to the children. The children played bingo and prizes were awarded to the winners. The rest of the money was saved for the Basketbrawl.

Planning ahead, bagels were sold to help raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Charitable acts include giving carnations to elderly ladies, cleaning up picnic areas on St. Valentine's Day, and picking different kinds of fruit for St Vincent De Paul.

Junior Class raises money for Prom '76

The Junior Class Council's activities this year included four very profitable candy sales, a non-profit assistance program for Saint Joseph's childrens' ward, and a canned food drive for Saint Vincent DePaul's Charity Dining Room.

"We managed to accomplish a lot this year with relatively few people," commented Debby Douglass, Vice-President. "One of our goals was to make Prom '76 one of the best ever. We worked hard on it, and I feel we met our goal!"

The Junior Class sponsors were Ann Ridenour, Frances Porter, Betty Houston, Del Waite, and Paul Tsakiris.

M&M sales help Seniors raise money

M& M's, balloons at Homecoming, and pretzels aided the seniors this year with their activities. These helped to pay for graduation supplies, a trip to the Arizona Snowbowl and a Senior gift.

Early in January the Seniors challenged the Juniors in the annual Powder Puff Football Game. This was the third year for this event.

"Participation of the Senior class has varied according to what ever we're doing," stated President Julie Vollrath. "If the students like the projects that we are working on they worked hard, otherwise they could have cared less."

HOW DID YOU RATE?

If you answered (d) to all of the questions, congratulations! You are just the type person we are looking for.

If you answered (a) and (b) at all of the questions, don't lose hope; almost anyone can raise their standards to meet ours, if they try.

If you answered (c) to all of the questions, may we suggest that you consider joining the Blade staff; you would probably fit right in.

THANK YOU—

- *Roger Bean, Julie Cramer, and everyone at Community Press, for their patience and understanding when we were late.
- *Ron Nielsen, for standing by.
- *Bourne Publishing, for our theme song.
- *Magna Labs, for processing our color prints.
- *Daddy Morris, and Mommy Virginia, for taking finished pages to the printer.
- *Martha Fitzgerald, our "Voice".
- *All clubs, teams, sponsors, and coaches, who had to have their pictures retaken.
- *Jeff Stone, for donating innumerable hours to the production of the SHIELD, without credit.
- *Steve McGlocklin, for being our Messiah.
- *God, who art in 3207.
- *McDonald's, for gallons of vanilla shakes, and hours of charades.
- *Monty Python and National Lampoon, for untold ecstasy and rapture.
- *Woody Hayes, for leading the Buckeye Boys to victory.
- *Clyde S. Spartan, for being our buddy.
- *Charme Morehart, for working too hard, staying too late, and putting up with too much.

Kelly Lee,

I'M NOT IN THE YEAR BOOK, BUT SINCE
I LOVE YOU, I HAVE A PAGE OF MY OWN. Kelly
YOU ARE VERY WEIRD, SAIN, CUTE, LULLABLE (MY OWN WORD)
AND EVERY THING ELSE. DISNEYLAND: THE FIRST TRIP TOGETHER
ALONE! STORY ① ONCE UPON A TIME THERE IS A THE END!

Pat S. Buck
Later is better

Well kill this is it. We finally made it. It sure was hard. All those tough classes we took and all. Student asst. 1 the way to Disneyland. That's the toughest test of all. Will we pass on all those difficult rides or will we fail - the toughest
"can we handle something as tough as" story book land? or will it be to much for us. I think well do O.K. some of the classes of our past have given us training enough to cope (Mr. Diaz's fiasco). Who may not make much sense, but, who cares. Exoner the shakes hand go on now (with our swollen heads full of knowledge) and get married and raise <sup>no offense</sup> kids. God knows what you're will look like...
All for now. I hope we will always keep in touch throughout the rest of the years of our lives.
Take care in England
Love much
